

Prof. Dr hab. Damian Józefiak, graduated from the Poznan University of Life Sciences in 2000 and started his research in poultry nutrition and gastrointestinal microbiology at the Department of Animal Nutrition. In 2003 he participated in the PhD fellowship program at Aarhus University in Denmark. In 2004 he started cooperation with integrated poultry companies in Poland, currently working as Professor and Head of the Department of Animal Nutrition at PULS and Head of R&D in the Piast Group, one of the integrated poultry companies in Poland. D. Józefiak is co-author of more than 150 papers and over 250 abstracts presented at different conferences. He was participating in over 25 UE scientific grants and more than 80 different R&D projects as well as EFSA registration trials conducted within feed and poultry industry frameworks. In 2015 he co-founded company HiProMine S.A working on different insect species to use in feed, food and pharma applications.